

In Spirit in the Woods, Jennifer Caldwell encounters more than she ever expects when her family moves from Florida to Massachusetts. More than anything else, she misses her former life in the sun, that is, until she encounters an Indian ghost and fears that she is losing her mind. Jennifer's ghostly encounters reach a climax when she suddenly transcends both space and time. Through an amazing journey with her Indian guide, Jennifer learns to respect the past. These events will change Jennifer's life in an amazing way as she will become the keeper of the past.
